OVERVIEW

In 1957, a team of 10, with the help of 104 volunteers canvassed East Valley with a survey to determine the community's interest in an East Valley hospital. Of the 1,521 respondents to the survey, 94.7 percent favored construction of a hospital in Chandler. Three years later, ground was broken for Chandler Community Hospital. In 1961, the 40-bed hospital opened with 25 employees and 91 volunteers. As the community grew, a larger hospital was needed; and in 1984, the original hospital was replaced with the current facility on the southeast corner of Dobson and Frye roads.

Over the years we have grown along with the Chandler community, adding on a new wing, two medical-surgical floors, an expanded emergency department, a diabetes clinic, a full-service cancer center, a comprehensive heart and vascular center, and a wound care center with a hyperbaric chamber. We are proud to have been ranked the #1 mid-size Acute Care Hospital in 2007 by "Ranking Arizona: The Best of Arizona Business," published by Arizona Business Magazine.

Today, Chandler Regional Medical Center is a 225-bed, not-for-profit facility featuring all private rooms; a highly trained staff of nurses, technicians and other health care professionals; and more than 600 physicians on staff representing all major specialties.

Chandler Regional Medical Center is located in Chandler, Arizona, one of the fastest growing communities in the country. In December 1999, Chandler Regional Medical Center became part of Catholic Healthcare West (CHW). CHW is the eighth largest health care system in the nation, and one of the largest in the western United States, with more than 43 hospitals in Arizona, California and Nevada.
